Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurIn this first-ever book on using the digital darkroom to produce underwater images, readers learn to finesse, fine-tune, retouch and dramatically correct and enhance film scans and digital camera images. Starting with a comprehensive look at the tools and setups required in the digital darkroom, Jack and Sue Drafaehl first outline hardware requirements, monitor calibration and room lighting. Next, they investigate the most popular image-editing software and show what programs best suit which image-editing needs.Prsentation de l'diteurIn this first-ever book on using the digital darkroom to produce underwater images, readers learn to finesse, fine-tune, retouch and dramatically correct and enhance film scans and
